CENSUS TAKERS GO TO WORK TO DAY.

Enumerators in Every Part of the Country Begin Their Labors This Morning.

WILL BE BUSY FOR TWO WEEKS.

In St. Louis 427 Men and Women Are Engaged in Compiling the Desired Records-To Report Each Day.

The taking of the twelfth census of the United States will be begun this morning at 7 o'clock. At that hour enumerators b every section of the country will be started ut in the districts they are to record. From Maine to Lower California the movement will be spontaneous. For two weeks these Covernment agents will work for ten hours ich day, Sundays excluded. At the end of that time there will be a complete record of the population of the United States and the wealth of the nation.

In St. Louis 427 male and female enumermore will cover the districts within its limits. The territory assigned to each individual is not more than a steady worker is able to cover in the two weeks allotted. All citizens are urged to aid the enumerators in every way possible. The questions they will propound are conclus and easily answered. The entire power of the United States backs up the enumerators and will purish any who willfully retuse to give the aformation asked.

A daily report will be made by each emit merator of the work he or she has done. Special cards have been prepared, on which this information will be sent each night to been appointed to oversee the work, and Supervisor Higgins. Special agents have give instructions on knotty points when re-quired. The census office can be remined by telephone. The Bell number is Main 201 and the Kinloch A 167. and the Kinloch A 167.
Mr. Higgins says that he anticipates no difficulty winatever in the enumeration. The questions will embrace population, mortality, defect in sight, hearing, etc., live stock in barns, stables, etc., larms and truck gardens, and other details.

want what you've got!" O'Haver then struck the man to his right in the jaw with his elenched fist. The other two then attacked him, the one from behird and the other from in front. O'Haver attempted to wrestle with the three and the robbers used a club.

The old man then allowed them to search his peakers. They found the money, the watch and a fresh plug of tobacco, This last, O'Haver says, he particularly asked them not to take as he did know what he would do all day for a chew. The men consulted and agreed, since he was so old a man, to let him have his tobacco.

After finishing their work the highway men fled north across the country toward Richmond Heights. O'Haver notified the police and the county authorities of the robbery, but so far no arrests have been made. He says he could identifetaotenifw made.
